F040534 People v. Renteria

We reverse the judgment, but we do not remand for a new trial. (PC 1262) Instead, on the issue of the admissibility of evidence that arose from the officer's entry into the residence, we direct the court, on any and all Fourth Amendment rationales, not only (1) to allow both parties the opportunity to file motions, adduce evidence, and present argument at noticed hearings but also (2) to make findings of fact and issue rulings. [Citations]. After those rulings, the court shall conduct such further proceedings as may be just under the circumstances, including re-entry of the judgment if appropriate. (PC 1260) Gomes, J.
